FAQ's

What is a virtual office, and how does it work?

A virtual office is a flexible business service that offers companies a professional address, phone number, and various administrative amenities without the need for a physical office space. It allows businesses to establish a presence in a prestigious location, manage mail and phone services, access meeting rooms when needed, and even delegate tasks to virtual assistants. This cost-effective solution enhances a business's professional image while offering flexibility and scalability in managing operations, making it ideal for startups, remote teams, and entrepreneurs seeking a virtual presence.

Why is it called Dispute Resolution Services? How does a Mediation Services Center relate to a Virtual Office?

A Mediation Center typically offers dispute resolution services, and while the term doesn't directly relate to a Virtual Office, Mediation Centers can benefit from virtual office services to enhance their operations. Virtual offices provide professional addresses, phone services, and administrative support, which can help Mediation Centers establish credibility, manage communications with clients and parties involved in disputes, and facilitate the scheduling of mediation sessions. Utilizing virtual office services can contribute to the efficiency and professionalism of a Mediation Center's operations.

Do I have to be a Lawyer to sign up to use the Virtual Offices?

No! Anyone can use the Virtual Offices: lawyers, legal professionals, business owners, startups, non-for-profit organizations. We are open for everyone's needs.

Can I use the professional business address as my official address?

Absolutely! Clients can legally use the virtual office address on their business documents and website. The Center also receives, re forwards and scans mail/packages for their clients.

Do you offer call answering services? How does this work?

The Center offers phone answering services using a third-party supplier, including the provision of a business phone number*, call forwarding, message taking, customized greetings, and virtual assistance. The Mediation Center services does not require you to be a Virtual Member to use these services.

What is virtual assistance, and how does it complement the virtual office services?

Virtual assistance, offered by skilled professionals working remotely, complements virtual office services by efficiently managing administrative tasks such as email correspondence, document creation, scheduling, research and more. This synergy enhances the professional image of businesses using virtual offices, provides flexibility to scale support as needed, and allows clients to focus on core activities, all while delivering cost-effective solutions that save time and resources.
